++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
After a cloudy start, drier and brighter than recently.

Today:
Some broken cloud at first, shrouding hill tops and giving the odd shower in places. Skies then clear through morning, leaving a largely dry day with plenty of sunny spells. Feeling mild, although less so than recently, with lighter winds. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Remaining dry overnight, with clear skies that will allow quite a widespread frost to form, as well as, perhaps, fog in prone locations. Feeling much colder than recently. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Friday:
Any early frost or fog will clear through the morning, to leave a fine and dry day with plenty of sunshine. Maximum temperature 13 deg C (55 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Murky on Saturday and feeling cold, with hill fog and patchy drizzle. Remaining cloudy, but largely dry with sunny spells Sunday and Monday, feeling mild but with overnight frosts possible.
